

Emergency Protocol

Use this when you are flooded and about to act from the old wound.

Use this when you want to send the desperate message, watch porn, explode, beg, drink, go back to someone who weakens you, quit, or punish someone with silence.

1. Put the phone down.
2. Stand up.
3. Take ten slow breaths.
4. Name the emotion out loud.
5. Name the impulse out loud.
6. Move for ten minutes.
7. Write the message you want to send, but do not send it.
8. Ask: What would I do if I respected myself?
9. Wait twenty minutes.
10. Choose the action your future self can live with.

What triggered me?

What did the old wound want me to do?

What action can my future self live with?

Do not trust the first wave. The first wave is often the wound speaking. Let the man answer.
