

Personal Code Worksheet

A man without a code is available for rent.

By the end of the 30-Day Protocol, write a short code you can actually live by. Keep it clear. Five to ten lines is enough.

Examples

- [] I tell the truth before resentment grows.
- [] I do not chase people who require me to abandon myself.
- [] I train my body because it carries my life.
- [] I do not use women, porn, alcohol, or work to avoid my wounds.
- [] I say no cleanly.
- [] I repair what I damage.
- [] I choose women by character, not chemistry alone.
- [] I build the island before inviting anyone to stand on it.
- [] I do not hate the boy, but the man leads now.

My Personal Code:

Final 30-Day Review

Do not exaggerate. Do not diminish. Tell the truth.

What changed in my conduct?

What promise did I keep that mattered most?

Where did I fail and return faster than before?

What pattern lost some power over me?

What emotion am I less afraid to feel?

What part of the island is stronger?

What am I no longer willing to tolerate from myself?

What kind of man has begun to appear?
